

PROGRAM COORDINATOR
CHINA ECONOMIC RESEARCH CENTER
STOCKHOLM SCHOOL OF ECONOMICS

The China Economic Research Center (CERC) at Stockholm School of Economics invites applications for a position as program coordinator. The position is based in Stockholm with responsibility for managing and administering CERC's existing activities on China, as well as developing future projects. Responsibilities will include coordination of fundraising activities, development of corporate relations as well as support to research and training programs.

We welcome candidates with a university degree in Economics, Business or other relevant fields. Successful candidates will have strong communication skills and an ability to independently handle complex tasks in a fast-paced environment. CERC puts a premium on experience from Asia and proficiency in Chinese is an advantage. Please send your curriculum vitae and a cover letter to Anders Engvall, CERC Deputy Director anders.engvall@hhs.se.

About CERC

CERC is a leading center for studies of Asian economies with emphasis on China. Research, teaching and outreach activities are focused on China's economic development, political economy, financial system, and the impact of Chinese growth on emerging Asian economies. The center provides a dynamic research environment.
