SSE CAREER MANAGEMENT – SKILLS COURSES 2015/16

In a competitive market, your employability skills are critical in order for you to have the best chance to land your dream job. SSE's Career Management skills courses are provided by corporate partners and SSE alumni to give students the extra edge to be successful. The courses cover different subjects, such as career preparation, interview training and personal development. The skills courses are not available for academic credits, but are given on a pass or fail basis. They are however, included on your diploma. The courses and sessions are interactive and non-promotional, focused on developing specific skills with clear learning outcomes for students. Past evaluations have shown that the skills courses are highly valuable for students.

The skills courses offered during the 2015-2016 academic year are provided by:

- Acumen
- A.T. Kearney
- Bain & Company
- BCG (The Boston Consulting Group)
- KPMG
- Selfleaders
- TalentEye

Bain Programme

Bain and Company is looking for talented students at SSE to participate in a skills-course focused on strategy consulting: Arranged as an SSE career services skills course, course number 880.

Do you thrive in challenging environments?

Strategy consulting...

- Confronts you with the key choices every organization must make
- Exposes you quickly to a large variety of such choices, across many industries
- Trains you to work with multiple facts and uncertainty under high-pressure deadlines
- Supports you with a team of some of the brightest people around—and gives your personal network a boost

Our job is helping top executives make the best decisions about their most critical business issues. This requires people skills, analytical skills, communication skills, creativity, initiative and a lot of hunger for learning.

seize the opportunity:

Over the course of six sessions we will dive into the core of strategy consulting. You will learn how to solve complex business cases, how to develop a strategy for a client and how working with private equity is different from the corporate world. All in a relaxed setting together with Bain consultants and other top students from both SSE and KTH.

You will also be given the opportunity to prepare for case interviews through case training with focus on problem solving approaches.

Join Bain Programme and learn more about the industry, how Bain consultants work, and how to solve the most challenging business problems.

application:

Apply by submitting your CV, grade transcripts and a short motivation (maximum 5 sentences) at www.joinbain.com please upload your CV and grade transcripts as one document. Search for your school on the website, click on Event and RSVP to the invitation Bain Programme.

Programme participants will be selected based on application and CV as well as a short interview.

SelfLeaders

Self-Leadership

SSE Career Services skills courses 881 and 882

To lead others, you must know yourself.

Do you know your personal values and what is truly important to you in life, or are you acting on others' expectations? Are you aware of your key strengths and feel flow in your work? Research has shown that an increased self-leadership will result in better decision making, increased self-efficacy and higher personal well-being.

Self-leadership has been offered at SSE since 2009. A small group of students from SSE and our partner organizations are offered the chance to understand, motivate and lead themselves and others, more authentically and efficiently. We offer two courses:

- Course 881: Six sessions in Swedish on Mondays Nov 9–Dec 7 at 6–9 p.m. + spring follow-up.
- Course 882: Full-day session in English on Saturday Dec 5 at 9 a.m.–5 p.m.

Application: Send in a short letter in Swedish or English to careerservices@hhs.se where you motivate why you want to take the course. Read more: www.selfleaders.se/sse

DO YOU WANT TO CHANGE THE WORLD?

Join us for an introduction to Course: 885 Social Entrepreneurship – entrepreneurship with a social mission - as a means to making a difference.

Stockholm+Acumen offers a free course that will give you an introduction to the phenomena of Social entrepreneurship, introduce you to four inspiring founders of social enterprises and potentially start you off on your journey to becoming more engaged in topics that you care about. Stockholm+Acumen, a volunteer-led chapter of PlusAcumen will facilitate this course four Tuesday evenings from 19:00–21:00, starting November 3rd, ending November 24th, at SSE. Together with a group of likeminded people from SSE and other backgrounds you will explore and discuss in this interactive and inspiring introduction!

Apply to get started! Please write a short description (maximum half a page) of what you find to be the most pressing social challenge we are facing today. We will select up to 18 course participants from within and outside SSE and let you know by October 27th if you can join this time.

Apply to: stockholm@plusacumen.org

Please note that this is an introductory course. We plan to facilitate more advanced courses later on if there is interest – topics ranging from marketing at the bottom of the pyramid, lean data for social impact, human centered design, storytelling, smart scaling etcetera. Have a topic you care about and want to learn more about? Let us know!

Stockholm+Acumen is a volunteer-led chapter of PlusAcumen, a global community of changemakers, who share the vision and supports the goals of Acumen – “to create a world beyond poverty by investing patient capital in social enterprises, emerging leaders and breakthrough ideas.”
