

SWEDISH HOUSE OF FINANCE

Website Open Seminars Subscribe Unsubscribe

We start this new decade putting the spotlight on Household, Consumer, and Sustainable Finance. There will be three top tier conferences targeting these topics during the year. Stay tuned for more info.

Also, don't miss the Swedish House of Finance podcast series. Our latest episode comes in a new format: A co-production with the young Swedish podcast "Kapitalet".

Be up to date on what is happening in financial research!

Women in Finance Talk

Did you miss our event on how to enhance equal representation in the field of finance? Take the chance to catch up on the discussions and listen to what speakers such as Anna Stenberg, Ann Grevellus, and Pär-Jørgen Flåsen have to say about today's finance industry. Filmed presentations and discussions are available here.

An extra feature from this event is our podcast episode 4 - co-produced with Kapitalet in English language. Listen to their interview with Ylva Bäckström and Ann Grevellus here.

Skandia Award 2019

How can policy makers use behavioral economics in the design of retirement savings policies? Professor Brigitte Madrian, the 2019 recipient of the Skandia Award presented her research at a seminar at the Swedish House of Finance. The filmed presentation can be watched here.

Does Cash Flow News impact stock market prices?

Congratulations Riccardo Sabbatucci whose paper "Cash Flow News and Stock Price Dynamics" was recently accepted for publication in the Journal of Finance. Read more about the paper here.

News

The world's highest carbon tax

The Swedish carbon tax introduced in 1991 has not been as efficient as previously reported, says Per Strömberg in the SVT interview. Read more here.

Fewer listed companies may impact consumers

Alexander Ljungqvist is building a unique infrastructure in financial economics, with the support of the Knut and Alice Wallenberg Foundation. Read more about it here.

Households overestimate their financial and environmental knowledge

How do Swedish households relate to climate change and to sustainable investments? New research by Anders Anderson and David Robinson explore the topic. Read more here.

Can investors time their exposure to private equity?

February 6, 16:30-18:00
Private equity performance, both for buyouts and venture capital, has been highly cyclical: periods of high fundraising have been followed by periods of low performance. Read more and sign up here.

Risk premia in the foreign exchange market.

March 24, 8:00-9:15
Irina Zviadadze's research is focused on understanding the sources of risk premia in the foreign exchange market, understanding properties of the term structures of asset prices, and developing diagnostics methods for macro-based asset pricing models. SAVE THE DATE.

Fifth European Workshop on Household Finance

May 7-9
The CEPR Network on Household Finance and Swedish House of Finance are organising the Fifth European Household Finance Workshop with the support of the Think Forward Initiative (TFI) and EIEF. More information here.

About us

The Swedish House of Finance at the Stockholm School of Economics is Sweden's national research center for financial economics. It hosts internationally distinguished researchers, and enables financial research and development of the highest quality.

The center serves as an independent platform where academia and both the private and public financial sectors can exchange knowledge, foster new ideas and gain access to a global network of the most prominent researchers in finance.

The Swedish House of Finance is an equally private and government funded, nonprofit, nonpartisan organization. It hosts approximately 70 researchers, consisting of resident and affiliated professors as well as PhD students.

Sweden's national research center in financial economics

SWEDISH HOUSE OF FINANCE

Drottninggatan 96, 111 60 Stockholm
Phone: +46 8 736 91 00
info@houseoffinance.se